

Position in the School of Social & Policy Studies
Faculty of Social Sciences
Tel Aviv University
Israel

June 2017

The School of Social & Policy Studies at Tel Aviv University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position to commence on October 1 2018 or sooner. Applications are open in all fields of Labor Studies/Industrial Relations, Organizational studies and Management.

The School is composed of four departments: Communication, Labor Studies, Public Policy, and Sociology and is part of the Faculty of Social Sciences. It combines research and teaching in a wide range of fields concerned with social sciences. It has a strong commitment to multidisciplinary research and teaching, and provides opportunities for interactions with many departments and research units on and off campus. It has a rich tradition of high-level, internationally recognized research and teaching.

The candidate must have a PhD degree or expect to be awarded a doctoral degree by May 2018, in Labor Studies, Industrial Relations or related areas, with excellent proven research and publication record. Post-doctoral experience is desirable.

The position includes full-time teaching, at introductory level courses (classes at Tel Aviv University are taught in Hebrew), supervision of MA and PhD students, and pursuing high-quality research based on grants received from competitive local and international foundations.

Qualified applicants should send a complete CV, a detailed statement of research and teaching interests, copies of selected recent publications, teaching evaluations (if such exist), and 3-4 names and addresses of recommending academics to: Prof. Haya Stier, Chair, Department of Labor Studies, Tel Aviv University, Tel Aviv 69978 Israel; e-mail: haya1@post.tau.ac.il. The application deadline is October 1, 2017.
