

12 Aprile 2018 ore 12.00-14.00
Torino - Campus Luigi Einaudi - 3° piano - Aula 3D233

Legal architecture and normative tensions in Lebanon and Turkey

Jihad Nammour
St. Joseph University, Beirut

Introduce
Rosita DI PERI
Università di Torino

Discussant
Roberta ALUFFI
Università di Torino

Chiara MARITATO
Università di Torino

Jihad Nammour is ARMA Academic Coordinator.

He is lecturer at the Institute of Political Sciences. Legal theory and Political sociology are his areas of study with a focus on religious law and communal identities.

He initiated doctoral studies at Saint Joseph University (Lebanon) in Political Science in 2002 and in Law at the University of Nanterre (France) in Jurisprudence in 2003.

His latest research focuses on forced migration. He develops educational programmes within several Lebanese NGOs, including Sakker el Dekkene (Anti-corruption) and Peace Initiatives (peace education and conflict management)

organizzato da

European
Commission | Erasmus+