

POLITECNICO
DI TORINO

UNIVERSITÀ
DEGLI STUDI
DI TORINO

Ryukoku University
Research Centre
for Local Human Resources
and Policy Development

International Conference

PROMOTING THE SMART, SUSTAINABLE AND INCLUSIVE DEVELOPMENT OF INNER AREAS. WHAT CHANCES FOR EUROPE AND EAST ASIA?

11th September, 2018 | Torino (Italy)

Venue: Politecnico di Torino, Lingotto Campus (Via Nizza 230, Torino)

Info and registration: innerareas2018@gmail.com

Rationale for the event

The term ‘inner areas’ refers to territories often located substantially far from centers offering essential services and characterized by depopulation and socio-economic hardship. Both in Europe and East Asia, it may connote remote rural areas as well as islands, isolated border regions as well as sparsely populated mountain territories: progressively deprived of a growing number of services, such areas have gone through a steady period of abandonment in favor of urban areas. Interventions targeted to safeguard, rehabilitate and revitalize inner territorial areas have been thus deemed necessary to the promotion of territorial cohesion, as access to essential services such as education, mobility and healthcare is crucial to guarantee an adequate level of quality of life among inner areas’ inhabitants. However, the promotion of smart, sustainable and inclusive development of inner areas presents a number of challenges, that may vary as a consequence of their intrinsic territorial characteristics as well as of the institutional framework in which their development shall be promoted.

In this light, this international conference aims at challenging scholars from both East Asian and European Union countries to address some of the following questions:

- What key features characterize inner areas in Europe and East Asia?
- Which territories are at risk of becoming inner areas? What processes may drive marginalization and how can these be reversed and/or overcome?
- How can inner areas explore and utilize their territorial potentials, support their competitiveness, create jobs and improve the quality of life for their citizens given their conditionality?
- What (European) national, regional and local strategies for inner areas, including more functional cooperation approaches and governance aspects, could be considered in order to improve their situation?

Under the patronage of

POLITECNICO
DI TORINO

UNIVERSITÀ
DEGLI STUDI
DI TORINO

Ryukoku University
Research Centre
for Local Human Resources
and Policy Development

SCHEDULE

- 09.30 – 10.00 Welcome coffee and participants' registration
- 10.00 – 11.00 Opening session - Chair: Magda Bolzoni (UNITO)
- Opening Speech | Katsutaka Shiraishi (LORC)
 - Greeting speech by Japan Consulate General
 - Greeting speech by Urban Center Metropolitan Torino
 - Greeting speech by Francesca Verga (POLITO Vice-rector)
 - Greeting speech by Sergio Scamuzzi (UNITO Vice-rector)
- 11.00 – 12.30 Keynote speeches
- Nobutaka Matoba (LORC) – Battle against the triple Ds: Mainstreaming Energy Policy for Local Sustainability
 - Giancarlo Cotella (POLITO) – The European Union approach to inner areas: a matter of cohesion
- 12.30 – 14.00 Lunch break
- 14.00 – 16.00 Parallel seminars
- Seminar 1 – Social Innovation & local development
Chair & Rapporteur: Giovanni Semi (UNITO)
 - Seong Kook Young (LORC) – Endogenous development through community building in Korea. The case of Jin An County
 - Fumihiko Saito (LORC) – New prospects of social and solidarity economy in post-disaster affected areas of Tohoku, Japan
 - Filippo Barbera & Tania Parisi (UNITO) – Social innovation and social change in Italian inner areas
 - Chiara Lucchini (Urban Center Metropolitan Torino) – TBD

Under the patronage of

POLITECNICO
DI TORINO

UNIVERSITÀ
DEGLI STUDI
DI TORINO

Ryukoku University
Research Centre
for Local Human Resources
and Policy Development

- Seminar 2 – Territorial governance

Chair & Rapporteur: Giancarlo Cotella (POLITO)

- Tatsuro Niikawa (LORC) – Local autonomy and inter-local partnership in the mountain rural area: towards sustainable community formation in Japan
- Kazuyo Murata (LORC) – Kyoto Alliance for Local Public Human Resource Development: collaboration between communities and universities
- Egidio Dansero & Giacomo Pettenati (UNITO) – Urban food policies: a chance to reconfigure urban-rural relationships. The case of Turin metropolitan area.
- Elena Pede (POLITO) – The Italian national strategy for inner areas: the case of Piemonte

- Seminar 3 – Rural development and urban-rural relations

Chair & Rapporteur: Daisuke Abe (LORC)

- Shenglin Chang (Taiwan University)– Nurturing agricultural humanities at the inner area tea town via the x-turn youth and e-farmers in Pingling, Taiwan
- Naoko Oishi (LORC) – Social innovation led by venture farmers in Japan
- Claudia Cassatella (POLITO) – From remote wilderness to liveable place. Evolution of an alpine park in the framework of the European Charter for Sustainable Tourism
- Bianca Maria Seardo (POLITO) – Rural “inner” landscapes of the Alpine region. Preserving the peculiarities of traditional vineyard landscapes through place-based and integrated landscape and territorial intervention in the Metropolitan City of Torino, Italy

16.00 – 16.30	Coffee break
16.30 – 17.30	Plenary Assembly <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Rapporteurs’ presentations• Open discussion
17.30 – 17.45	Closing keynote speech – Kazuyo Murata (LORC)

Under the patronage of

POLITECNICO
DI TORINO

UNIVERSITÀ
DEGLI STUDI
DI TORINO

Ryukoku University
Research Centre
for Local Human Resources
and Policy Development

Scientific and Organizing Committee

Daisuke Abe (Ryukoku University)

Magda Bolzoni (University of Turin)

Giancarlo Cotella (Politecnico di Torino)

Nobutaka Matoba (Ryukoku University)

Naoko Oishi (Ryukoku University)

Hiroshi Yahagi (Ryukoku University)

Organising Institutions

Politecnico di Torino

Università degli Studi di Torino

LORC – Ryukoku University

Event organized under the patronage of

Urban Center Metropolitan Torino

Consolato Generale del Giappone a Milano

Under the patronage of

