5th Edition of the Master ICT FOR DEVELOPMENT AND SOCIAL GOOD

For better world, take your first step!

International agencies and non-profit organizations are increasingly looking for project managers and development professionals who have excellent capabilities on the use of digital technologies for social good. By developing solid knowledge in the effective planning, development, implementation and management of ICT4D initiatives in many different sectors, such as Data Collection and Visualisation, Health, Agriculture, Artificial Intelligence, Human Rights, Emergencies and Civic Engagement you will build a professional profile that corresponds to the labor market demands.
